

Let's Talk Gardening!

Licking County Master Gardener Volunteers and

The Harbor Community Center

April 21 Nature's Calendar—How do the monarchs know when to migrate north? How do peonies always seem to bloom around Memorial Day? Find out the natural phenomena of seasonal timing.

May 19—The Benefits of Backyard Chickens in Your Garden Beyond providing fresh eggs, chickens can help with pest control in the garden! Join us and discover all the great reasons to include chickens in your backyard.

June 16 -Enhance Pollinator Habitat with 'Soft Landings' Pollinators are responsible for about 75% of the food we eat. Learn how to help them survive by adopting this new method of gardening.

August 18—Tomato Taste Testing It's back because it's so much fun! Join us as we share the different flavors of all kinds of tomato varieties!

September 15—Sheet Mulching—The Easy Way to Smother Weeds and Build Great Soil The best time to sheet mulch is the fall. Using this method will allow Mother Nature to do all the work, leaving the gardener great soil to start their garden in the spring.

Energize and spark the gardener inside of you by attending this series of programs provided by the Licking County Master Gardener Volunteers of Ohio State University Extension.

It's sure to cultivate a love of gardening!

Programs are FREE!

When:

Runs the 3rd Friday of the month, from April through September 2023

except July

Time:

1:00 to 2:30 pm

Location:

The Harbor Community Center
in Buckeye Lake, Ohio.

Questions? Contact:

Extension at 740-670-5315

or Harbor Community Center,

614-560-1352

